$1. Per Year.

A Whole Family Can Be Fitted Out

In Warm, Stylish, Serviceable Clothes for very Little Money.

THE Clothes are just as good now as they were two months ago, and half the winter is yet to come. The prices we put on these goods early in the season were low enough in all reason. Our ordinary profits are small; our regular way of selling is as fair as any buyer could ask; but after the first of the year we face the problem of selling all goods left or carrying them over to another winter. We haven't room to store them. We lose if we keep them, and we must lose if we sell them.

We are Ready to Take Our Loss Now If We Can Turn this Stock into Dollars.

The money tied up in this merchandise will pay in advance for Spring purchases and entitle us to special cash discounts. It requires courage to mark Fine New Suits and Overcoats at less than they cost to make. But it takes herculean measures to move goods at this season. We must make prices that will interest the light purse and the shrewd, close-fingering buyer. We reckon folks will come for goods if the price is low enough.

Our Mid-Winter mark-down Sale is the Shrewd Buyers Opportunity.

TEMPERANCE FORCES.

Gather to Arrange for "Wet or Dry" Election.

Pursuant to the call for a mass meeting of citizens favorable to a "wet or dry" election, some 50 citizens assembled at the court house last Monday night.

The meeting was for the purpose of effecting a central organization to carry on the campaign, and was organized by the election of Rev. N. J. Tilghman, chairman, and Mr. H. O. Hamm, secretary.

Short addresses were made by Revs. L. R. Lynn, E. J. Gates and Wm. Stones and Messrs. S. E. Timmons and A. P. DeWolf. Reports from several of the country precincts showed that the petitions for the election were being quite generally signed, and that in some precincts as high as 75 per cent of the white registered voters were signing.

The following preamble and resolutions were offered and unanimously adopted:

Whereas, there is now being circulated among the registered voters of the county of Putnam a petition to the county commissioners to call a "wet or dry" election, according to the laws of the state of Florida, and whereas, we, the citizens of said county, have, in mass meeting assembled, nominated a general committee to take charge and oversight of the election campaign, to promote the success, in every way, of those hereby organized whose local option is the prohibition of the sale of spirituous and fermented liquors in the county of Putnam: Therefore be it,

Resolved, that this committee be and is hereby instructed:

1st. To increase its number from nine to twelve, if, during the progress of the campaign, the circumstances should seem to make such enlargement expedient.

2nd. To call for and present to the board of county commissioners the various petitions now or hereafter circulated for signatures calling for said election, looking particularly to their being in due form and their correctness according to the requirements of the election laws of the state.

3rd. To appoint a finance committee to raise funds for the expense of the campaign and disburse same.

4th. To employ legal counsel whose advice shall be sought on points of law.

5th. To arrange for speakers at the various precincts, and to appoint local committees who shall do individual and precinct work; and further to arrange for a thorough canvass of the county, co-operating with the W. C. T. U., which shall be auxiliary to the general committee.

And finally to do all that, in their wisdom, would seem best in the promotion of the temperance interests of the county.

The following general committee, to have charge of campaign, was then appointed:

Hon. M. L. Cox, chairman, Palatka; Rev. Wm. Stones, W. G. Tilghman, H. W. Kilpatrick, Rev. L. R. Lynn, Palatka; A. P. DeWolf, Crescent City; Ira Gorman, Interlachen; Allen Price, Melrose; W. J. McRae, Harlem.

Bob Davis will Speak.

Hon. Frank Clark, congressman-elect from the Second District to succeed Bob Davis, has been paying a visit to Washington for the purpose of becoming acquainted with the situation. To a Times-Union representative he said:

"Yes, I have just returned from Washington, where I have been for the past week taking a survey of the situation and making such preliminary arrangements as are necessary for me to intelligently begin my congressional service."

"On all sides I heard expressions of regret from members that Captain Davis would retire after this session. He is certainly one of the most popular as well as useful members of congress, and his popularity extends over to the republican side of the House, as well as being universal among his democratic colleagues. I was glad to ascertain that he was very much esteemed by the president. This was evidenced yesterday when Mr. Davis took me to see the president. As soon as he introduced me, the president, seizing my hand, exclaimed in a manner which left no doubt of his sincerity:

"I sincerely trust that my relations with you may be as pleasant and agreeable as they have been with Mr. Davis."

"I assured the president that I most heartily reciprocated the kind sentiment which he had expressed, and was glad to know that he entertained such an opinion of Mr. Davis."

"I had never seen Mr. Roosevelt before, and in the short interview we had he impressed me as an intensely earnest man, with a broad American mind, and I was led to hope and believe that we will find in him a much better friend for the south than we have been accustomed to think."

"Mr. Clark states that there is to be a hard fight on the floor of the House this week, when Congressman Davis and Congressman Littlefield of Maine are to clash over the pilotage bill. This bill will be reported favorably by the House committee, and the majority report will be presented by Mr. Littlefield. Mr. Davis will present the minority report, opposing with stubbornness the bill. This bill seeks to do away with compulsory pilotage for all vessels in the ports of the United States, and is regarded as one of the most important measures to come before the congress of the United States at this session."

PERFECT CONFIDENCE.

Where there used to be a feeling of uneasiness and worry in the household when a child showed symptoms of croup, there is now perfect confidence. This is owing to the uniform success of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the treatment of that disease. Mrs. M. I. Basford, of Poolesville, Md., in speaking of her experience in the use of that remedy says: "I have a world of confidence in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for I have used it with perfect success. My child Garland is subject to severe attacks of croup and it always gives him prompt relief." For sale by Ackerman & Stewart.

The Shelley-Fry Nuptials.

Palatka society was out at an early hour last Wednesday morning, drawn by no less an event than the wedding of Mr. John Andrew Shelley and Miss Nellie Elizabeth Fry, which had been announced to take place at St. Monica's Catholic church at 5:30. At the hour named the church was comfortably filled, for the contracting parties are among the most popular of Palatka's young people.

The bridal couple were preceded in the march to the altar by the best man, Mr. James C. Ray, and Miss Maude Fry, sister of the bride. Then came the bride and groom, and as the procession moved up the center aisle to the altar, the Misses Mattie and Maude Rogers, on the organ and violin, played Mendelssohn's wedding March.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. John O'Brien of Fernandina, assisted by Rev. Father Barry, the pastor, in the beautiful ritual of the church, and after the ceremony the happy couple were driven to the Union depot where they took the G. S. & F. train for Atlanta. They will be absent in Atlanta, Augusta and Savannah some two weeks.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. L. A. Fry of this city and is one of the most charming and popular young ladies of Palatka. The groom is the Secretary of the Fearnside Clothing company, and a business man of high standing.

Mrs. Fry entertained the officiating clergymen, the Misses Mattie and Maude Rogers, and the immediate members of the families directly interested in the wedding at dinner Tuesday night. And it was here that the wedding presents, some 100 in number, and embracing sterling silver, cut glass and many bric-a-brac novelties were sent.

INTERLACHEN ITEMS.

C. G. Knight of Waterford, Maine, is the guest of Charles Willey.

H. H. Whitley of Hawthorne and J. S. Jolly of Gainesville were here on business this week.

J. A. Walton of Akron, Ohio, is in town for a while.

C. H. Leach Sr., of New York has joined the Fleischman party at Eskine Villa.

Sunday, Jan. 29, at the Congregational church, occurred the marriage of Miss Mary Rose Davis of Springfield, Ohio, and Otto Ogletree of Palatka. The church was beautifully decorated and the ceremony, performed by Rev. Mr. Winslow, was impressive. The ushers were C. H. Purdy of Jacksonville and H. F. Tucker of Palatka. The best man was the groom's brother, Will T. Ogletree of Troy, Alabama. The bride was attended by Miss Mary Coburn, J. H. Yelverton Jr., and W. F. Houston of Palatka, were out of town guests.

Mrs. Vesta Allen and Miss Rosalie Falk of Palatka were guests of Mrs. Merritt Corthell.

Mrs. Hodshon of Danbury, Conn., Mrs. Ambler of New York City, sisters, arrived on the noon train Tuesday, and as they left New York Friday by the Clyde Line, knew nothing of their mother's dangerous illness and were obliged to return immediately on the return train for the north.

Dr. Merritt Corthell is home from a three weeks' trip in Georgia.

A Trade Reception.

The reception given by the National Biscuit company at the opera house last Wednesday afternoon was a well attended and thoroughly enjoyable affair. From the opening hour, at 2 o'clock, until the close, at 5, guests were almost continually arriving. Never before has there been an entertainment of this character, and rarely, if ever, on any occasion has a greater degree of enthusiasm been manifested in this city. The capacity of the hall was taxed to its utmost, but not the hospitality of the reception committee. There was a hearty welcome for all.

The refreshments served at the reception consisted almost entirely of the products of the National Biscuit company. First, there was Uneeda Biscuit, not only an appetizing between-meals nibble, and an unexcelled lunch, but a complete ration in themselves. Then there were other delicious products of the baker's art, among them being Oysterettes, Butter Thin Biscuit, Graham Crackers, Social Tea Biscuit, Zu Zu Ginger Snaps and others. All these were served at the reception, as they always should be served, direct from their packages, which by excluding all air, dust and moisture, protect their contents from the oven to the table, in a most unique and effective way.

Nabisco Sugar Wafers and Festino Almonds were also served. These confections are two of the most delicious products of the National Biscuit company. Nothing could be more desirable for a nibble, or more appropriate for dessert.

It is safe to say that every lady who attended the reception not only enjoyed a pleasant entertainment, but departed, appreciating as never before, the products of the National Biscuit company.
